Schaerer, Adnreas.

Big Wig. 1 sound disc + 1 video $26.98
 Act Music+vision ©2017 ACT 9824 2 614427982421
 Andreas Schaerer is currently one of the most talked-about vocal artists on the international music scene. He recently was awarded the title of International Vocalist of the Year at the 2015 ECHO Jazz Awards. Schaerer uses his voice in the manner of a juggler, a magician. He can not only make it sound forth in contrasting stylistic idioms and vocal registers, he can also produce all kinds of sounds and imitate a whole range of instruments. He can do beatbox percussion, or he can stack up polyphonic vocal parts on top of each other in a way which seems unfeasible. On top of all that, he is also a hugely impressive composer. When the Lucerne Festival chose "humor" as its 2015 theme, they approached Schaerer and Hildegard Lernt Fliegen. This release is the result. Schaerer composed a six-movement orchestral work with parts for 66 players just for this event. The partnership between symphony orchestra and jazz combo turns out here to be both stimulating and compelling. "The Big Wig" is a masterpiece by this multi-talented musician.

Wasserfuhr, Julian; Wasserfur, Roman.

Landed In Brooklyn. 1 sound disc $18.98
 Act Music+vision ©2017 ACT 9829 2 614427982926
 For their fifth album, German trumpeter Julian and pianist Roman Wasserfuhr are in Brooklyn. If Brooklyn were not one of the five boroughs of New York City, its 2.6 million inhabitants would make it the fourth largest city in the United States. And the secret is out: Manhattan may have the establishment institutions like Lincoln Center, but the real action is in Brooklyn, with an abundance of creativity being generated by musicians from the Wasserfuhr brothers' generation, working in apartments, lofts, bars, clubs, and studios. Very little had been agreed or set down in advance when Julian and Roman arrived at the studio to meet the top-drawer American players. They had brought the sheet music of some pieces with them, but the guiding principle was to see what would transpire and to let things happen. Roman begins the final performance on the record just as he begins the first: with a motif expressed in his pianism that allows Julian and the band to slip into a rapid and revelatory up tempo waltz; closing out the recording as they began, and in a manner characteristic of what has become a tradition in Brooklyn and beyond: new ideas and the artists who bring them.

Flamenco : Best of Rafa El Tachuela. 1 sound disc $14.98
 Arc Records ©2017 EUCD 2707 5019396270725
 This highly diverse Flamenco album features the best and most beautiful pieces compiled from six previous albums. Featuring international musicians from Barcelona, Cairo, London and Berlin, the wide variety of compositions and instrumentations brings pleasantly surprising and exciting phrases. Each of these works has been composed or arranged by Rafa El Tachuela. Born in Berlin, Rafa El Tachuela began teaching himself flamenco guitar at the age of thirteen. Two years later he made his first public appearances. His passion for flamenco led him to find the group Yamada, and for eight years he wrote all of their compositions. He has intensely studied authentic traditional flamenco as well as modern flamenco styles. Today, the main focus of his compositional and guitar work is the musical connection of the flamenco with elements of jazz and the ideas of the next generation of flamenco guitarists.

Folk Songs and Dances From India. 1 sound disc $18.98
 Arc Records ©2017 EUCD 2712 5019396271227
 These mask dances, folk songs, and ceremonies come from the state of Jharkhand in India. This is energetic and up-tempo music played on purely traditional instruments, flutes, folk oboes, various drums, and percussion. Three of these tracks were made during the Karam Festival. On the eleventh day of the moon in the month of Bhad the head of the family brings home two branches of the karam tree and in the evening plants them side by side in the courtyard of the house. He then makes an offering of milk, ghee, and bread made of rice flour to the gods. Meanwhile the inhabitants of the house dress up and sing and dance in the courtyard or by the house. Performing these works is the Chhau and Nagpuri group.

The blending of these two main races has produced a number of ethnic sub groups with unique habits. This album is made up entirely of field recordings, showing all that is unique and memorable about music in Nepal.

Heigh Chief.

Heigh Chief. 1 sound disc $18.98
 Blue Mood Records ©2017 BMCD 535 7033662065356
 Heigh Chief (formerly known as Marcus Lovdal band) has taken a step in a new direction in the past year. Two years have passed since their debut, and now they are ready to release their second album. Heigh Chief's goal has always been to create their own sound and expression. The music is still with a touch of blues, but on this album has also become rougher and more diverse. In Heigh Chief they all have different musical references, and they've brought them into their expression. The songs move through several genres, but common to all of them are the band's fascination and inspiration from rock, blues, jazz and Americana, from artists such as Paul Simon, Blake Mills and Robben Ford. Before the recording of this album, Heigh Chief spent more time on songwriting and arranging than before, and the music is this time characterized more by each individual in the band. The band has distinguished themselves in the Norwegian and German music markets as not only an outstanding recording ensemble, but also as an incredible live band with their own original songs and unique musicality.

Harrison, Jackson.

Sintering / Jackson Harrison Trio. 1 sound disc $18.98
 Hatology ©2017 HAT 723 2 752156072324
 Harrison is a melodist who has found his own patterns for melody, apparent in the anxious repetition of an unresolved motif in the opening "Preludial," in the transformative, alchemical heat suggested by "Sintering," or the contrast of the transparent resolution of "River Dolphin." Throughout, Harrison creates his own structural language with a music that is both deceptively simple and, ultimately, wholly beautiful.

Among other things, Visiting Texture illustrates the principle of addition by subtraction. It's the first studio album by Trio 3 as an actual trio – with Oliver Lake on alto saxophone, Reggie Workman on bass and Andrew Cyrille on drums – in more than a decade, since the excellent Time Being in 2006. The intervening years have seen the group work powerfully with some serious guest pianists: notably Geri Allen, Irène Schweizer, Vijay Iyer and Jason Moran. But there's a specific character to the group's trilateral rapport, which finds full expression here. The working history among these musicians stretches back several decades, rooted in an ideal of collectivity and intuition: their motto has long been "a group where music is the leader." "Improvisation to a large degree is always having an element of surprise," Cyrille reflects. "Even if we're playing something that's arranged, we want to spark it so that there's always a certain magic happening as the music is being developed." The entirety of Visiting Texture adheres to that conviction, bound by a spirit of real-time discovery.

Every Grain of Sand : Barb Jungr Sings Bob Dylan. 1 sound disc $18.98
 Linn Records ©2017 AKD 581 691062058124
 Barb Jungr's "Every Grain of Sand" has deservedly become known as a modern cult classic and has won the singer a dedicated fan base around the world. Originally released in 2002 this insightful album established Jungr as one of the leading interpreters of the Bob Dylan songbook and entered the Top 10 "Jazz Album of the Year" lists in The Sunday Times and The Telegraph whilst the Wall Street Journal described it as "...the most significant vocal album of the 21st century thus far." Jungr's revelatory interpretations get right to the heart of Bob Dylan's lyrics, finding new depths and emotion in his works. The original release prompted more than a decade of Dylan performances with a Barbican tribute alongside Billy Bragg and Odetta. Jungr is supporting this re-release with a UK tour in 2017.

I Miei Stati d'Animo. 1 sound disc $29.98
 Schema Records ©2017 SCEB 953 CD 8018344029535
 Lelio Luttazzi was a multifaceted artist who shined and left his mark as a pianist, musician, conductor and composer. A jazz lover, Luttazzi reached fame and success thanks to his brilliant and undoubtable talent. During a career spanning more than 50 years, he established himself as a master of several disciplines such as music, literature and cinema. He started his career in Trieste right after the Second World War. In 1948 he moved to Milan to take on the role of Director at teh mythical CGD. In 1950 he moved to Turin where he conducted Rai's orchestra. One of the first composers to place jazz structures in the Italian songs, he invented the rhythmic string orchestra. To understand Luttazzi's sound it is important to consider the context he grew up in, Trieste has always been a peculiar city, its musical history being influenced by the post-war anglo-american administration, which introduced jazz and public radio broadcasting. Luttazzi's sound is in fact characterized by mitteleuropean atmospheres tinged with American swing. Swing, humor, invention and immediacy are teh distinctive traits of his music. When he was young, he fell in love with the music of Louis Armstrong, and of American composers such as Gershwin, Porter, Kern and Carmichael - Erroll Garner was his favorite pianist. His deep knowledge of music allowed him to obtain outstanding results not only as a composer but also as an arranger and orchestrator. Luttazzi contributed to the rising Italian film industry, writing a multitude of soundtracks but also as an actor. His works ranged from classical orchestration to opera and jazz. His style of jazz was unmistakable and personal: he had a deep, physical connection with this sound, you could have told by his mannerism. One of the pioneers of the genre in Italy, he's been the first to use jazz as a soundtrack in movies.

Cadentia Nova Danica.

August 1966 : Jazzhaus Montmartre. 1 sound disc $15.98
 Storyville ©2017 SVL 1018441 717101844128
 Saxophonist John Tchicai returned home to Denmark in 1966 after four years in New York, where he had made himself one of the most prominent members of the avant-garde movement that had become known as the New Thing. He then formed the Cadentia Nova Danica ensemble with young Danish musicians who were already playing together: Tchicai assumed the role of mentor for the experimental group, who learned how to navigate the unorthodox technical demands and wild emotions of the controversial new sound.
