Arrhythmia (Warp)

Arrhythmia is the musical equivalent of haute couture — the ultimate artistic expression of its designer, from top to bottom. It's not ready to wear out of the box and not everyone will get it, but damn it feels good. With Arrhythmia, Antipop Consortium manages to perfectly meld old-school hip-hop flavor (there's something eerily '80s about the chorus of "Bubbles") with a 21st century sound (as in: 2001: A Space Odyssey) and IDM-adorned hip-hop beats — the group is very much at home at its new label, Warp — draped with organic musical elements (bongos, etc.) and insightful lyrics. MCs Priest, Beans and M. Sayyid don't miss a beat as they slice through delivery changes like a hot knife through butter; sometimes they attack the mic, landing on hard consonants with almost unprecedented enunciation, while other times they approach their words with unusual delicateness. M. Sayyid's rapid-fire syncopation in "Ghost Lawns" is not to be missed. This album has been meticulously crafted down to the tiniest detail, rendering each track its own unique and complete experience. From the light-hearted (check out the scattling on "Silver Heat") to the more hard-hitting, this group expands the scope of hip-hop way past anything out there now. More than listened to, Arrhythmia needs to be experienced.

SOULIVE

Next (Blue Note)

Groovy combo Soulive is growing. Sax man Sam Kininger, who guested on the group's 2001 breakthrough Doin' Something, has officially been added to the mix of keyboards, drums and guitar. These neo-groove cats are growing in other ways as well on Next, welcoming more guest vocalists and opening their sound up to more than just the vintage vibe of classic groove units. Not that they've abandoned their tasty, signature mix of cool soul and jazz; tracks like "Kalen" manage to show off a funky side as well, with Eric Krasno scraping out rhythms on guitar against Alan Evans' drums. The most surprising and most striking new direction for Soulive is a collaboration with Dave Matthews, who does an amazingly tender reading of Ani DiFranco's "Joyful Girl." While the band's playing is relatively restrained in the background, every note is just where it should be. Black Thought from the Roots brings out the more raw edge of the group on "Clap," adding another layer of rhythmic cool. The group also gives chanteuse Amel Larrieux a sultry setting to create something above the contemporary R&B norm. A bonus track, the Hi Tek remix of "Bridge To 'Bama," invites rapper Talib Kweli to shed more light on what might be the "next" direction for Soulive. — Steve Ciabattoni

ANDREW W.K.

I Get Wet (Island-IDJMG)

Andrew W.K. is a future guilty pleasure. It's only a matter of time before his unbridled party rock is featured on the Party Rock/Jock Jams compilations (not to mention exercise DVDs) being hocked on late night TV. However, we must live in the now — and right now, Andrew W.K. kicks booty. I Get Wet is a slick collection of party anthems built on towering power chords, big drums, tasty new-wave synth licks and admonitions to “Party ’Til You Puke.” Disliking it is simply impossible, because it's joyful, liberating, vital. Granted, the message (“It's Time To Party,” “Party Hard,” “Fun Night,” “Got To Do It”) is somewhat overbaked, but it's nevertheless timely. Where artificial angst now dominates our once blissful rock and/or roll, the Brooklyn-by-way-of-Detroit singer is a resuscitator preaching vigor. Of course, this directive will be the eventual downfall of Andrew W.K., much like it was for Christ, Jesus H. When ESPN gets hold of the record, or a Top 40 station spins it between matchbox twenty and Pink, whether he deserves it or not, AWK might get the music biz equivalent of the cross: the trade-in. So, love it now before it's uncool. Or consign yourself to geekdom and just rock out! — Randy Harward

GO BACK SNOWBALL

Calling Zero (Rockathon-Recordhead)

The pairing of Superchunk's Mac McCaughan and Robert Pollard of Guided By Voices sounds like a match made in indie-rock heaven. But the idea of them sharing a studio and a six-pack of beer or two (or five) is simply too good to be true. Since McCaughan has been splitting his time between Superchunk and his side project, Portastatic, and Pollard has been busy putting out 18 records in the past three years with various members of the GBV family, this collaboration had to be recorded through a tape exchange. In North Carolina, McCaughan recorded a varied batch of music tracks; “Red Hot Halos” shimmers with otherworldly synths that would make Stephin Merritt smile, and for the noisy “Lifetime For The Maverick,” McCaughan fires up a complete rock song before hitting the two-minute mark. The microphone-swinging, booze-guzzling Pollard added the vocal tracks in his native Dayton, Ohio. Like a Beatle raised by a pack of truck-drivers, he greets the music with a sweet voice and a touch of delicious filth. On “It Is Divine,” Pollard is at his lewd and beautiful best, singing about the ephemeral divinity of pissing on a hot street in summertime. If this duo ever gets the chance to record in the same room, the sound could only get better.

WHO IS CMJ RETAIL?

by Mark Cope

In August of 2001, CMJ's New Music Report began a journey down a new road working with retail accounts and record label sales and marketing departments. For a company like CMJ, this was a huge step forward. CMJ is the college radio trade with a great tradition for exposing new and developing artists. Now with the addition of retail it can contribute to the artist development process on the sales floor as well. But with a number of different sales-tracking trade publications out there, why did CMJ want to become yet one more?

For the record, CMJ had already dabbled with tracking sales a couple of times in its almost 25 years of existence — with mixed success. The reason the time's right now is because we saw an important opportunity not being addressed by any other trade publication — an opportunity to not only work with but to also build upon and contribute to the strength of independent stores, small chains and emerging retail coalitions like The Music Monitor Network, The Coalition Of Independent Music Stores (CIMS), plug accounts" in each market. One look at this week's front cover will tell you the makeup of our panel. We are not trying to be all things to all people, but make no mistake about it: the accounts that make up the CMJ Retail reporting base sell it all from Barbra Streisand to The Alkaline Trio. These are the accounts that distribution companies (major and independent) send their ADRs (or as Don Van Cleave calls them, "the kids with initials") to when they're trying to jumpstart a record market by market. These are the accounts the major chains watch to know what's really selling before they step-out on a record. In short, CMJ Retail is made up of accounts that don't just provide piece counts — they show trends.

Our job is to dig deep, to gather, write and provide information that gives perspective on why records sell. We do this by working closely with our panel of reporters who have understood, from the beginning, what we're trying to do. We respectfully thank them for their instant support. Ultimately, the goal for CMJ Retail is to be recognized as the starting place for labels (large or small) to break their artists. To further that cause we have also enlisted support LINGS, the DMRC and the various urban retail coalitions. We felt a need to highlight these accounts along with the artists and labels they impact. For CMJ it seemed a natural synergy for a magazine already dedicated to showing trends at college radio and throughout the music industry to spread its wings into retail in a new and very aggressive way.

CMJ Retail is now a vehicle for spreading the word and raising the voice of music retailers and the business of music that surrounds them. One might ask any label or retailer, "Who cares?" In this SoundScan-dominated world of sales, there certainly isn't a need for another retail chart — or is there? Does SoundScan tell us everything we need to know? It can slice and dice information many ways and (if truth be told), it is the best system we currently have for estimating the music industry's weekly sales figures. So why the emergence of CMJ Retail? Because the "smaller guys," the ones actually in the trenches, the ones in the business of breaking new artists and albums, have become lost in the shadow of SoundScan. If 80 percent of the business is being done by only five or six accounts, how can the "little guys" be that important? For CMJ Retail, the answer is simple: if these indies represent even 10 percent of the overall business, then it just may be the most important percentage of an artist's or album's developing life.

We believe these stores deserve a collective voice, so CMJ Retail has set out to create a forum that will feature what we consider "spark-from many major chains and one-stops and are dissecting their weekly sales information to create appropriate charts that will reflect those key sales as well.

THE CMJ RETAIL CHARTS

THE TOP 100

CMJ's Top 100 Sales Chart is based on the weekly confidential piece count information we receive from each of our reporters. Currently, our contributing reporting base for the chart is made up of over 150 accounts that represent nearly 500 different store locations around the country. All are independent with the exception of a handful of Tower and Virgin Megastores located near college campuses. The rest of the panel (which continues to expand weekly) represent the best in independent retail. Consequently our Top 100 is a chart that breathes, that moves quickly and allows exposure for new and developing acts. In recent weeks releases from Joey Ramone, Norah Jones, And You Will Know Us By The Trail Of Dead, X-Ecutioners, Phantom Planet and Starsailor all debuted Top 20 or better. The balance is that Alicia Keys, Jennifer Lopez, Nas and Pink are also represented in there as well. What is even more interesting, though, is the Bottom 50 of the Top 100. That's where records by the White Stripes, Zero 7, Thursday, Thrice, The Faint, Default and Avalanches all made their first appearances and have continued to climb. Look closely, and you'll note that we also feature the "Monitor This!" logo from the Music Monitor Network on our Top 100; this allows the rest of the business to know what the priority titles are for this 100 store-plus coalition.

ONE STOPS AND MAJOR CHAINS

We also feature a Top 20 Major chain chart reflecting sales from our favorite major chains like Tower, Warehouse, Virgin Megastores, Borders, Sound Shop and others who represent almost 1500 locations. This chart will continue to develop as we add more accounts to our base. We also featured the only National One-Stop sales chart in the business. There are nearly a dozen one-stops represented including accounts like Baker And Taylor, Southwest Wholesale, Super Discount CD, Central South One Stop, Electric Fetus, Angott, Impact, House 'O Guitars and others. The purpose of this chart is to not only to rank what has been shipped initially, but more importantly to show the reorder patterns coming back from non-direct retail accounts. Labels should and do look at this chart to gauge the reaction of titles selling at accounts that may not be SoundScan reporters.

IN-STORE PLAY

Last (but not least) we feature the CMJ In-Store Play chart compiled from the number of mentions an artist receives for in-store play as reported by the CMJ panel. The chart represents the "buzz" in stores — what retailers are supporting without paid programs or paid listening posts. In particular, the In-Store Play chart offers exposure to artists that may not be getting it in other areas of the magazine or in the retail business at large. In short, it is an indicator chart that shows trends and support.

CMJ RETAIL EDITORIAL

"COPE WITH IT"

Our editorial content is made up of a number of different sections and "Cope with It" kicks it all off. This is a section, written by CMJ's Head Of Retail, Mark Cope and is sometimes free-flowing, sometimes biting, and at times even entertaining (compliments, concerns or complaints can be sent to mcope@cmj.com).

"SPEAK OUT"

This section is meant to be a voice for our panel of reporters as well as anyone else that something relevant to say about retail. Whether it's Terry Currier's rant about exclusives, Michael Kurtz's MMN announcement, or Al Lotto taking on the issue of CD burning this is a section dedicated to people speaking their mind about the biz, uncensored.

"POINTS OF IMPACT"

"Points" dissects albums in solicitation as well as ones that are already out. These are records CMJ Retail believes in and thinks both our retail and college radio readers should know more about. "Points" lays out the marketing plan as it unfolds from the labels and to tell the story of its ongoing successes. This section is meant give retailers as much information as possible about artists and the stories helping sell their records. We believe this has bettered retailers' buying and discretionary support decisions and kept them informed. "Points" paints the picture for retailers about the progress and potential for an artist or album.

"UNDER THE RADAR"

"Radar" shakes out the bottom 50 titles of our Top 100 and focuses on artists who have debuted, made noteworthy upward moves, or that may be just about ready to chart in the coming weeks. Still in its infancy, "Radar" will continue to be the one to watch for key information on new and developing sales stories one won't see or hear about anywhere else.

"PROFILE"

"Profile" is written by retail vet Curtis Hawkins and features a detailed peek into who makes up the CMJ Retail panel. Here you find the whos, whats and whys about our reporters' priorities, programs (including their most successful), locations and history. It's a tremendous overview of what our accounts are about and the players that make them that way. At a glance now, label or distribution companies can walk away feeling like they know something more about the accounts their dealing with. And college radio peeps, these are the stores your listeners shop at — these are, in short, your greatest allies.

So there you have the thumbnail view of what has developed at CMJ Retail. We are still a baby (having debuted our first chart in January of this year), but we have come a long way in a very short time. We will continue to make improvements on our systems, content and reporting base. Make no mistake about it: if you are a label you should be paying attention to the information we present in this magazine. You should also support our work. We want to help you break your artists and we can't do it without an open door of communication. If you are a college radio PD or MD, you should pay attention to what is selling at CMJ Retail. These are stores impacted by your airplay, they should be a gauge for you as you look at your play list and see the impact your station may be having on sales.

Lastly, the CMJ retail staff is made up of people that have many years of experience in this business on many different levels. Let me just thank everyone involved in helping us to get to this point, including CMJ Publisher Bobby Haber. The artists and their music still remain the most important part of the music business. We will continue to do everything in our power to highlight those that support our industry and point out the ones whose decisions don't. We will continue to fight for what's right and expose what is wrong in the hope we can all survive these turbulent times. Remember, music hits you in the heart and stays with you forever; stockholders are around only as long as it is financially favorable to their portfolio. You tell us what this business was built on!

AUDIO LEARNING CENTER

Friendships Often Fade Away (Vagrant)

This year, Vagrant is on track to establish what both industry insiders and backpack-toting consumers alike already know as “the Vagrant sound.” This label-specific style consists of energetic post-punk flecked with emo’s sincerity and passion. Audio Learning Center’s Friendships Often Fade Away is definitely a prototype of this “Vagrant sound.” The Pacific Northwest group, whose members did time in the beloved ’90s sludge bands Pond and Sprinkler, explores familiar sonic territory, but also experiments with dipping its indie sensibility in keyboards and high-pitched vocals. The overall mood of Friendships Often Fade is one of wistful lament, and tunes like the sleepy “The Shell,” “Prescription” and “Hand Me Downs” will lull you softly into submission. There are adrenalized moments, too: “Favorite” is a kicky rocker and “Broken” has riffs that smack of Nirvana. Friendships Often Fade is effective in that it can wear you out with its youthful energy and can kill you softly with its breezy, gentle moments — almost like a howling wolf nestled in docile sheep’s clothing.

Your New Boundaries (Badman–Wishing Tree)

Claiming to present “new boundaries” on a debut record might seem overly ambitious, but Boston’s Clairvoyants are at least gently shaking things up. Though the five-piece’s brand of laconic molasses rock could reside alongside the work of slow-core luminaries like Low or Bedhead, Your New Boundaries is intent on dismissing expectations. As soon as the record’s first track, “To Reassure,” seems to be sinking into a pretty but predictable ambience, the Clairvoyants switch time signatures, freeing the song and allowing the melody to soar. It’s a wise, unlikely move that’s indicative of the group’s respectful experimentation with slow music. The solo acoustic “Song Against Suicide” is simultaneously serious and sweet, with a melody that, if sped up, would have been appropriate for mid-’90s twee fare. It’s this sort of approach that elucidates what’s most impressive about Your New Boundaries; it’s deliberate and superficially dour, but ultimately uplifting. Much to their merit, the Clairvoyants play slowly for much more than slowness’ sake.

DOC WATSON WITH FROSTY MORN

'Round The Table Again (Sugar Hill)

The late Merle Watson began Frosty Morn to cut loose with various styles of American music. With T. Michael Coleman, Bob Lamar Hill and Joe Smothers, he genre-spliced blues, country, folk, rock and bluegrass with youthful irreverence. Ol’ Doc was inspired and joined his son. After the 1985 automobile accident of Merle, the gang has reconvened once a year at the string-band-apalooza Merle Fest. 'Round the Table Again was recorded at the 2001 festival and features a third-generation Watson, son/grandson Richard. The recording captures the energy and warmth of the performances, and its musical diversity creates an acoustic party-band vibe. Stabs at Leadbelly, Merle Haggard, Jimmie Rodgers, Bob Dylan and the Moody Blues mix well with the traditional material like “Coo Coo Bird” and “Battle of Nashville” (the latter is a twang attack detailing a bloody Civil War skirmish that includes some pickin’ party wizardry). Doc Watson is walking history, and 'Round the Table Again is an exuberant example of why.

ENGINE DOWN

Demure (Lovitt)

Since their last album, Under The Pretense Of Present Tense, Richmond, Virginia rockers Engine Down have stripped their signature math-rock sound to its core, presenting it unapologetically with gut-wrenching vocals, searing guitar riffs and volatile drumbeats. Gone are the floating keyboard lines, string arrangements and soaring vocal harmonies that once added all the sparkle to the engine. This doesn’t mean that Demure is a letdown by any means; songs like “Detour” and “Second Of February” start with a soft, chiming guitar and singer Keeley Davis’ haunting vocals before launching into a barrage of anxious and complex chords that construct a framework of tension, building each song to an explosive climax of cymbals and guitar fuzz. Considering that two of Engine Down’s members are also in Jade Tree’s much hyped baby band, Denali, one would hope that some of that attention would trickle over this way as well. Demure definitely shows that the band deserves it.

LAUB

Filesharing (Kitty-Yo)

In the future, robots will live hand-in-hand with humanity. As Germany's constantly morphing electronic revolution keeps blurring the distinctions between genres, the white-lab-coat scientists in Laub are approaching the frontlines of this future pop schema. These Krauts blend organic matter with the digital files of their laptops, fusing the clinical clicks of glitchno with the ethereal ambiance of the Cocteau Twins. Forget the language barrier — it wouldn't matter if singer Antye was reciting driving directions on the Autobahn. Her breathy voice adds motherly soul to the sterile bleeps swirling around in this cyborg-like womb (even if she is singing exclusively in German). Can sonic experiments conducted on hard drives and petri dishes be fused? For Laub, the answer is a resounding "yes." Heavenly keys float overtop the crispy and roboto-fied IDM beats on the powerfully emotive ballad "Wortspur" and the tech house of "Morgen." Damn the RIAA and its hard-line stance; there's some Filesharing to be done.

SHANA MORRISON

7 Wishes (Vanguard)

When your old man is Van Morrison, music is just part of your framework. Such is the case with singer/songwriter Shana Morrison (Van's daughter), a capable artist whose sophomore album (and Vanguard debut), 7 Wishes, provides a respectable balance of rock, blues, soul and pop that's sure to satisfy Triple A fans. Recently, with her band Caledonia (also the name of one of her dad's tunes), Morrison opened shows for some of Triple A's royalty, including Lyle Lovett, Michael MacDonald, John Hyatt and Keb' Mo'. Her budding prominence in the format solidifies that this isn't simply some legendary rock star's daughter riding the crest of her father's wave. Van's kid or not, Shana's talented — there's no denying that — and 7 Wishes houses many highlights to cement that belief. Sonny Landreth lends his slide guitar talents to "Sometimes We Cry," a track that also boasts some vocals and harmonica playing by Van, who originally wrote the tune. Also worth airplay consideration are "Smoke In Bed," "I Spy," "Mother" and a rendition of Pop's tune, "Naked In The Jungle." — Kevin Boyce

PRECIOUS BRYANT

Fool Me Good (Terminus)

In today's pre-fab world, the honesty of Precious Bryant is as necessary as water to a thirsty man. Country blues in the style of Georgia's lower Chattahoochee River Valley, Fool Me Good sounds like an unearthed field recording.

Bryant and her guitar were recorded in a friend's living room, giving the album an intimate immediacy. A guitar player since the age of nine, she weaves folk magic with the instrument, and her singing can sound guttural and angelic — often in the same phrase. Rarely is blues played with this combination of authenticity and freshness. Bryant's age (59) puts her in a cultural gap between the music of her father, blues guitarist James Bussey, and the rock and soul revolution. This perspective mixes the traditional with elements of modern music. Whether it's the houserockin' stomp of "Don't You Wanna Jump," where her voice recalls Ronnie Spector, the more gospel-tinged "Don't Let the Devil Ride" or the classic "Fever," she's a commanding performer. If the Blues Travelers and Blues Explosions of the world leave you thirsty, take a drink from Precious Bryant.

TWEET

Southern Hummingbird (Goldmine-Elektra)

On her debut album, songstress Tweet calls upon the gods of dance and soul to showcase her wide range of talents. Whether Erykah Badu/Lauryn Hill-esque relationship-reflections or the Timbaland-produced, Missy-influenced club joints, Tweet's soft, silky and sensual voice will make listeners feel like she's whispering in their ears (the word "woo" even comes to mind). Production on slower jams like "My Place" and "Smoking Cigarettes" is kept to a minimum, allowing Tweet's voice to set the mood, making it perfect background music for those all-night sex marathons where foreplay alone can take hours (hint, hint, guys). "Best Friend," her duet with fellow love-jam crooner Bilal, is a match made in heaven. Some may be quick to categorize her with India.Arie or Alicia Keys, but she's definitely got her own style and attitude evident on bump-and-grind joints like "Boogie 2Nite" and the album's first single, "Oops (Oh My)." Don't be fooled by the innocent name, folks; Tweet is the musical equivalent of white cotton string-bikini underwear and thigh-high leather boots. So simple and undeniably hot. — Lisa Hageman

REPUTATION

Reputation (Initial)

Lately, there has been a decided lack of female-fronted acts that can strike a balance between the outright rawk of bands like Kittie and the cloying ubiquitousness of the thousands of Britney wannabes. Thankfully, the Reputation — a blistering four-piece fronted by former Sarge vocalist Elizabeth Elmore — proves that, current trends aside, there are still a few women not afraid to put some brains back into rock. The Reputation's self-titled debut is, first and foremost, a showcase for Elmore's powerfully biting lyrics and her passionate voice, dancing deftly between little-girl sweet and outright roar on tracks like the disarmingly brutal "Misery By Design." On the album's nitrous-fueled opener, "Either Coast," Elmore holds her own as ferociously ringing guitars frame what might already be the road-trip song of summer 2002. This band can slow it down though, and tracks like "This Town," or a pretty-as-nails paean to an unraveling relationship, fittingly entitled "The Uselessness Of Friends," showcase a refreshing versatility that should cement the Reputation's rep on just one listen.

ST. GERMAIN

Boulevard (PIAS America)

"Much respect to all the DJs who play real house music," says Ludovic Navarre, a.k.a. St. Germain, during the closing moments of "What's New," one of the jazz-house fusion compositions that defines Boulevard. He goes on to give props to those who "keep New York's underground house sound alive" — which wouldn't sound so strange if it wasn't coming from a Frenchman. However, the fact remains that Navarre is consistently credited with bringing the house movement to Paris, as well as with starting the genre-crossing experiments that in turn spawned the globe-conquering dance scene thriving in France today. Boulevard, originally released in 1995, is where it all began. Incorporating house beats, blues samples, acid jazz, dub, soul and even salsa, this album — now repackaged to include the underground hit "Alabama Blues" and "Soul Salsa Soul" in place of two of its original tracks — is widely viewed as a milestone in European dance music. This is a history lesson, kids. Study up.

KELLER WILLIAMS

Laugh (SCI Fidelity)

A one-hit wonder Keller Williams is not, yet on his latest album, Laugh, Williams is able to take an entertaining look at the stressful, exhausting and tedious "career" of a novelty musical act. "One Hit Wonder" is a wonderful illustration of what has now come to be expected from Williams. Combining a playful spirit with a lighthearted approach, Keller is able to continue his instrumental evolution while not losing the uncanny ability to invite his audience to take a peek into his twisted, comical reality. Case in point: "Bob Sucks," a funky, hilarious dream that looks at the daily game show, The Price Is Right, is an intense pistol duel straight out of your father's favorite Western. "Freeker By The Speaker" is a people-watcher's take on the various dancing styles one could encounter at any given show or club, and "Old Lady From Carlsbad" is a one-minute, nine-second Nickelodeon spot that will not only make a three-year-old get up and dance, but convince moms and pops to stop and tap a toe or two as well. Come to think of it, the whole album could cause a little shakin' to happen.

We're damn happy to report that New York's Prong has re-united to snap our fuckin' necks once again. The classic thrash/industrial band, currently shopping a three-song demo to labels in an effort to land a new deal, is launching a national tour that's scheduled to begin on April 1 in San Diego. Our recommendation for the setlist? Well, now that you asked, here it is (Tommy Victor, are you listening?): "Snap Your Fingers, Snap Your Neck," "Prove You Wrong," "Unconditional," "For Dear Life," "Beg To Differ," "Another Worldly Device," "Lost And Found," "Irrelevant Thoughts," "Territorial Rites," "Whose Fist Is This Anyway," "Broken Peace," "Controller" and "Unfortunately." You know, come to think of it, that would be a damn fine Prong best-of collection (Tommy Victor, are you listening?). • Superjoint Ritual, the band that features Philip Anselmo (Pantera) on vocals, Jimmy Bower (C.O.C./Eyehategod) on guitar, Hank Williams III (Demonseeds) on bass and Joe Fazzio (Demonseeds, Stressball) on drums, will release its debut album, titled Use Once And Destroy, on May 21 through Sanctuary Records. • It is still tentative, but there is talk of an In Flames and Soilwork tour of both the United States and Europe in the fall. Cross your fingers, bitches. Soilwork's latest masterpiece, Natural Born Chaos, will go for adds at Loud Rock on April 1-2. • During a recent show in London with one the 5,967 new bands he's working with (okay, it was Tomahawk), the irrefutably eccentric Mike Patton prematurely ended the gig by urinating on a security guard. When questioned why he elected to piss on the poor sap, Patton stated that the guard (a.k.a. urinal mint) had harassed him earlier in the evening. We were unable to confirm at press time whether or not the guard in question was original Faith No More guitarist Jim Martin (okay, we're bullshitting you there). • The track list for Killswitch Engage's Roadrunner Records debut, titled Alive Or Just Breathing, is as follows: "Numbered Days," "Self-Revolution," "Fixation On The Darkness," "The Last Serenade," "To The Sons Of Man," "Just Barely Breathing," "Life To Lifeless," "Temple From The Within," "The Element Of One," "Vide Nfra," "Without A Name" and "Rise Inside." The album will hit retail on May 21. • Is it wrong that we have set up a small altar specifically to worship Goddess/Arch Enemy vocalist Angela Gossow? • Columbia's Lostprophets and Therapy? will join Ozzy Osbourne, TOOL, System Of A Down and Slayer for the Irish leg of Ozzfest 2002, scheduled to go down on May 26 at the Punchestown Racecourse in Kildare, Ireland. And, you can bet the farm that when you get a bunch of Irishmen together in a racing venue called PUNCHEStown with Slayer on the bill, somebody is going to get fucked up. • According to Elektra Records, here is the track listing for the forthcoming Family Values Tour 2001 album (due out May 7): Stone Temple Pilots, "Vaseline"; Linkin Park, "Runaway"; Staind, "Fade"; Stone Temple Pilots with Linkin Park's Chester Bennington, "Wonderful"; Static-X with Deadsy's Exeter Blue, "Push It"; Staind, "It's Been Awhile"; Stone Temple Pilots, "Wicked Garden"; Static-X, "Cold"; Aaron Lewis of Staind, "Black"; Stone Temple Pilots with Staind's Aaron Lewis, "Creep"; Deadsy, "Tom Sawyer" (yes, that "Tom Sawyer"); and Linkin Park with Staind's Aaron Lewis, "One Step Closer." • Today Is The Day and Speeddealer will serve as the opening acts on the forthcoming Motörhead and Morbid Angel tour that is set to launch on April 11 in Dallas. The rest of the tour shapes up like this: Austin, (4/12); Corpus Christi, TX (4/13); Houston (4/14); Towson, MD (4/18); Washington, D.C. (4/19); Poughkeepsie, NY (4/25); Worcester, MA (4/26); New York (4/30); Royal Oak, MI (5/2); Cleveland (5/3); Minneapolis, (5/6); Dekalb, IL (5/7); Chicago (5/8); Denver (5/10); Seattle (5/14); Portland, OR (5/15); Anaheim (5/18); San Diego (5/19). Now Or Never recording artists Brand New Sin will join the tour on May 10. • Columbia/Legacy has unveiled the final four titles in the label's extensive restoration of the Judas Priest catalog (there are 12 releases in the full series). 1996's Turbo, 1987's Priest...Live!, 1988's Ram It Down, and the band's thoroughly kick-ass 1990 offering, Painkiller (also the Priest's last album with vocalist Rob Halford), are all now available in digitally mastered, expanded editions that each contain previously unreleased studio and live tracks, new liner notes by the band, vintage photos, original art and enough classic metal to make you bust out that jean jacket with the Screaming For Vengeance back patch and drive a motorcycle through the office. • Metal Blade Records will celebrate their 20th anniversary with a nine-CD box set that will also include a DVD. In related news, we will be naming our first born daughter Jen Graham... hint, hint. • Spitfire Records has signed Danzig and will release the band's latest album, titled Danzig 777: I Luciferi, on May 21.

FIVE QUESTIONS WITH... KING DIAMOND!

King Diamond fans who have been holding their breath for a sequel to the 1987 metal classic Abigail can now exhale in horror-filled delight. Despite the 15-year wait, Abigail II: The Revenge, the long-awaited continuation of King Diamond's musical saga about the highly dysfunctional La Fey family, is in stores now. CMJ recently caught up with the King himself to discuss his music, his legacy, and that time Gene Simmons tried to sue him.

When I write for CMJ, I steal most of my ideas from porno magazines and tabloid newspapers. You've always written really good scary stories. Have you ever thought about writing a book?

I would love to if I had the time. My biggest dream of all is to see a class director take one of my albums and turn it into a movie. I think they could make a hell of a scary story.

What are three albums that every self-respecting King Diamond fan should own?

Because I put so much of myself into them, it's hard for me to say. I can't even listen to those albums without thinking, 'Is that hi-hat too loud?' or something like that. Then, I slap myself, say stop it and try to just listen, but I can't. I'm so involved.

In what ways do you feel that your musical contributions — both solo and with Merciful Fate — have molded Loud Rock?

When people mention us as inspiration, it's an honor. If bands use makeup because of me, that's great, but I never think about that. We just do our thing and it's almost like we're out there on our own — we never follow any trends and we never have. It's important for me to remain true to myself, that way I know that I am being true to the audience. I would be ashamed of myself if I didn't do what I am doing the way I am doing it. If I am not allowed to do what I feel, then I'll find something else to do.

Is it true that Gene Simmons made you change your original face paint? What was the problem? Did it interfere with some Kiss handbag, or a Kiss flyswatter, that he was hawking on kiss.com?

No, he never made me change anything, but they did bring a lawsuit against us. It was regarding my makeup on the album Them, which had already changed [for the album Conspiracy] by the time the lawsuit was filed. I don't see the similarity. I think that it was a publicity stunt because Kiss wasn't doing too well then and they had already taken off their makeup. I told them that they were not the first ones to [wear face paint]. There are so many before them who did that. However, I have no hard feelings. I still like Kiss.

What does the future hold for King Diamond?

Well, we want to go out on the road and play the Abigail story live. It will be something new for the fans and us too. That would be something very special.

DOWN

Down II: A Bustle In Your Hedgerow (Elektra)

Down is what happens when rock stars smoke good weed and lock themselves in a barn below the Mason-Dixon line. Built on a foundation of absolute talent, swampy Louisiana humidity, a common love of Black Sabbath, some of that aforementioned funny smelly smoke, and enough booze to make Nick Cage's character in Leaving Las Vegas blush, the band's second full-length, Down II: A Bustle In Your Hedgerow, is everything a supporter of kick-ass American rock music could desire. The New Orleans-based group, comprised of members of Pantera, C.O.C., Crowbar and Eyehategod, completely floored Loud Rock fans in 1995 with its smokin' debut, Nola (an essential addition to any respectable metal collection). And, while it took six years for Down to churn out this sophomore effort, the Big Easy fivesome's momentum hasn't decelerated in the least. In fact, in the last few weeks it has swelled like a tsunami descending on a small Fiji village and consequently, the band has skyrocketed up the Crucial Spins and Loud Rock charts quicker than you could shout, "Cajun cookin'!" Based on its superior sludge-ish riffs, dark melodies and unrelenting rock, Down II is bound to be a mainstay on these charts throughout the year. Look for Five Questions With... Down's Pepper Keenan in next week's issue.

ARSON

Lacerate The Sky

(Resurrection A.D.)

When CMJ's Loud Rock editor was still just a young pup, he was clobbered in the back of the head with an old-fashioned wooden sled (which explains a lot) while coming down a nasty, snow-covered hill. After blacking out for roughly 30-50 seconds, he came to, jiggled his rattled skull and looked down.

It was then that he realized that his cranium was oozing a generous amount of mouth-watering blood, forming a remarkably red puddle in the virgin white snow. Why the hell are we telling you this? Because you too will feel like you've been thumped on the brain with a large wooden object while listening to Arson's latest monster, Lacerate The Sky. This 10-track beast is riddled with lyrics like "Limb from limb, torn apart at the point where life expired/ Charred remains pieces cauterized to stop bleeding, there is no resurrection/ One mans remains buried in five different graves." And, if the album's bleak poetry isn't enough to push your Loud Rock mojo into overdrive, the guitar work on Lacerate The Sky will be enough to convince you that Arson is so fucking tough, it would eat the ass out of a dead horse and ask for seconds. Now that's something we'd like to see on Fear Factor.

VARIOUS ARTISTS

The Scorpion King OST (Universal)

Do you smell the rock that this album is cookin'? Universal's soundtrack for The Scorpion King (a spin-off of The Mummy films, based on the character first introduced in The Mummy Returns) is filled to the brim with a cornucopia of radio-friendly, mainstream rock tunes (Creed, Hoobastank, Injected, Nickelback), but the real payoff for Loud Rock fans is new tunes from System Of A Down ("Streamline"), Mushroomhead ("Along The Way"), Coal Chamber ("Glow"), Godsmack ("I Stand Alone") and Drowning Pool ("Break You"). A remix of P.O.D.'s "Set It Off," and additional contributions from Flaw, Rob Zombie and Ozzy Osbourne, 12 Stones, Lifer and Breaking Point round out the collection. The movie will open in theatres on April 19.

BLUDGEON

Crucify The Priest

(Magic Circle-Metal Blade)

Judging by the title of its album and the corresponding cover art, Catholicism doesn't come up too much during Bludgeon band meetings. The band is a staple of the Illinois, Ohio and Wisconsin underground metal scenes, and its Metal Blade debut, Crucify The Priest, was produced by Manowar's Joey DeMaio and showcases Bludgeon's ferocious brew of death, speed and thrash metal. The album isn't bound to be a favorite at the Vatican (John Paul is more of a GWAR fan), but Loud Rock fans should eat it up like the body of Christ during communion.

INDUSTRY NEWS

Our "Quote Of The Week" comes from Don "Critter" Brown, Program Director at KZCD/Lawton, OK, who wrote to us via email with the following statement: "I went to the CMJ website and did my first online report...damn that was easy!!!! If I can do it, anyone can and it saved a hell of a lot of time too...I thought it was going to give me fits but in the end it was incredibly easy." Dude, if we could kiss you right now, we...uh...can we buy you a beer instead? Thanks, Critter! • KGLT/Bozeman, Montana's annual fund drive will kick-off on March 25 and run until April 7. The Loud Rock department at the station is looking for incentive gifts to entice listeners to make contributions to the station; hats, t-shirts, CDs, stickers, posters are all welcome. Send your swag to: Big Rob Parker, Loud Rock Director; KGLT 91.9FM; Sub Rm. 320, MSU; Bozeman, MT 59717. You can call him at: 406.994.6483 or e-mail him at: mrhardcorps@aol.com. • KSCR/Los Angeles Loud Rock Director Justin M. Evans has named his replacement: Jeff Treppel (reach him at: treppel@usc.edu). Treppel will learn the ropes of being the Head Loudster In Charge until mid-April, when he will fully assume the role from Evans, who will segue to General Manager.

The Hip-Hop Super Conference took place in New York City March 12–15 and I had the opportunity to participate in some of the week’s festivities. I thought the scope of the project was right on... there were countless panels on hip-hop culture’s (can you hear KRS-One saying it in your head?) permeation of the media, fashion and even the vernacular. A hot topic at the panel entitled “Naw Mean” (which explored “urban” language and influence on hip-hop culture) was the use of the “N” word, regardless of whether it ends with an “a” or and “r.” Opinions and ideas were traded; one panelist mentioned that he thinks it’s important for people who use it to understand the history behind the word. Another said that it was a good example of black culture’s creativity and ability to turn something negative into a positive. My question to all of you is this: as we get further away from the civil rights movement and younger generations grow up hearing the word through hip-hop, their knowledge of the word’s history is limited (if they have any at all). Is this a good or a bad thing? Should this word be shelved as a part of history, or rather, is it a matter of using the word so often that it’s rendered powerless? Let me know your thoughts.

On a less philosophical note, Loud Records laid off half of its workforce on March 15 and announced it will no longer operate as a stand-alone label. Sony’s Columbia plans to takeover the imprints promotion, marketing and sales (Sony currently owns a share of the label, estimated to be approximately 75 percent). • Mark April 28 down on your calendars, folks that’s when NBC’s going to air the hip-hop version of Weakest Link. Competing on the show will be

DJ Quik, Da Brat, Xzibit, Reverend Run, B-Real, Nate Dogg, Jermaine Dupri and Young MC. Should be a nail-biter! • The first class of hip-hop greats were inducted into the Hip-Hop Hall Of Fame at the inaugural induction ceremony during the Hip-Hop Super Conference. Those honored were hip-hop legends DJ Kool Herc, Russell Simmons, KRS-One, Crazy Legs, Afrika Bambaataa, Doug E. Fresh, Slick Rick, Grandmaster Flash, Run DMC, LL Cool J, Queen Latifah, Salt-N-Pepa, graffiti artist Dondi, Tupac and Notorious B.I.G. • Commercial station WTJM (Power 105.1) completely took the likes of Hot 97 and WBLS by surprise. On March 14, the new “urban”-formatted station (owned by Clear Channel) blasted onto the New York radio scene with days of commercial-free hip-hop and R&B. The station also recruited former Hot 97 morning show personalities Ed Lover and Doctor Dre. • Word has it the infamous, inimitable Rakim will lend his talents to an upcoming DJ Quik-produced single by Aftermath artist Truth Hurts that will appear on the R&B artist’s debut. Rakim has also recently completed his own Aftermath debut entitled Oh My God, the master rhymer’s first release in three years. • Bobbito, after suffering through the demise of his clothing line and label (Fondle ’Em Records) has decided to try again with Fruitmeat Records. The label’s first release will be a 12” by live band Butta. • Grammy winner Nelly Furtado is looking for a little flava these days. She’s been working with The Roots for a track on their upcoming album and will soon hit the studio with Jurassic-5. • To correct previous reports: Slum Village is not the latest Priority acquisition. Capitol (under the same umbrella) has signed the group to its roster and has asked

Priority to work the record, perhaps due to budgetary concerns. • Why is Derrick Coleman is trying to make me look like an asshole? I finished up last week’s column (in which I mentioned his bench-sitting) and headed over to MSG where I proceeded to watch Coleman bust out a whopping 20 points against the Knicks with fellow Philly fan, Artemis’ own Jason Spiewak. He was on fire! Unbelievable. I’m considering that game an anomaly though, folks.

GLENN LEWIS

World Outside My Window (Epic)
Picking up where D'Angelo left off, crooner Glenn Lewis plans to keep the R&B flame ablaze. This guy sounds so much like classic Steve Wonder, it's frightening ("Take Me" sounds like he's actually channeling his spirit!), and his easy mellow vibe conjures up warm fuzzy memories of Songs In The Key Of Life. A perfect rainy-day CD, Lewis is sensuous and reflective without giving off any creepy sexual predator vibes (like some self-titled R&B artists do) which, in itself, renders this record a "mood-enhancer" — he/she won't even realized they're being seduced until they're halfway in the sack. Vocally, Lewis can hold his own among soul and R&B greats; this guy doesn't need hokey embellishments to stand out from the crowd. In fact, it's his commitment to the single note that conveys the richness and warmth inherent in his voice. Whether he's pleading for forgiveness ("Sorry") or waxing nostalgic about his son ("Beautiful Eyes"), Lewis has successfully positioned himself as the next almighty seducer. Might as well give in.

FOREIGN TRAITS

Foreign Traits (Virus)
Hip-hop, in addition to being a musical expression, has documented the struggle of the black man from New York to L.A. and everywhere in between. With their self-titled debut, Foreign Traits expands the tale of struggle to include their homeland of Uganda (that's East Africa, folks).

After facing hardship for 10-plus years in the U.S. (after fleeing Uganda in the wake of Idi Amin's rise to power), brothers Tendo and Hayes, currently residing in upstate New York, have seen enough to draw from. Their lyrics document their lives from Africa to Poughkeepsie, and in doing so draw listeners into a world devoid of Cristal and half-naked women, one new to hip-hop fans: "East Africa is the place that produced us/ Watching Kunta Kinte I thought you knew us... Realize life and you can realize pain." Foreign Traits reminds that struggle is universal.

R.L. OTTMAN AND L. SCHROETER

Music Directors, WSUW 91.7 FM and WMUR (CC/Online)
UW-Whitewater and Marquette University
Whitewater, WI and Milwaukee, WI

5 CURRENT FAVORITES

Cub Country High Unita High • Rye Coalition On Top • And You Will Know Us By The Trail
Of Dead Source Tags And Codes • Yes Relayer • Breeders Last Splash

How many watts is your station?

OTTMAN: 1300 watts.

SCHROETER: "Watts" that? We're on the Internet!

How many people do you reach?

OTTMAN: 200,000 kids.

SCHROETER: Two or three people standing near enough to the station to hear the music come down the hall.

What's the station motto?

OTTMAN: "Your sound alternative." We are just too damn clever!

SCHROETER: "Marquette Radio — turn us on."

How long have you been and will you be MD? How do you abuse your power?

OTTMAN: This is my first year, and I plan to be MD next year as well. The only things I abuse are my lungs and my liver.

SCHROETER: Second and final year. I hand out my WMUR business cards at the bar to get dates. "Yeah, I work in radio. Call me."

OTTMAN: Business cards?

SCHROETER: Oh, and I abuse Rebecca.

What do you do to build your station's audience?

OTTMAN: I try to sleep with as many kids in our target market as possible.

SCHROETER: Personal threats.

OTTMAN: We both end up short.

Who are you most proud of bringing to the station to perform and why?

OTTMAN: My school of 10,000 is bigger than the city itself so I try to deter bands from stepping foot here. Not just because of the size, but also because of the amazing fan base Dave Matthews has here.

SCHROETER: Just this week I got Davey VonBohlen and Chris Rosenau from Vermont (and Promise Ring/Pele, respectively) to come on my show. I was proud to finally sucker our local rock stars into coming by the station. Davey said WMUR is the cleanest [Internet] radio station [in Milwaukee] he's ever seen.

Are you on the air? What kind of show do you do?

OTTMAN: Liz and I did one amazing show together that consisted of 15 to 30 second clips of every decent CD laying around the WMUR station, as well as running commentary and noises from me. It was the perfect eclectic mix for every A.D.D. kid ever.

SCHROETER: The coffee and pancakes really fueled me up. When Rebecca isn't visiting Milwaukee, I do a normal weekly show with whole songs with my co-host of four years, Becky Vanderkloot.

What's the most fucked-up thing that ever happened to you while you were on-air?

OTTMAN: Some monkey would call me and my cohort Kinky Kristin and ask us to say "fuck" on air.

SCHROETER: Some freshman boys in the dorm requested that my co-host Becky and I fondle each other's boobs while playing sexy music.

What was your most embarrassing radio-related moment?

OTTMAN: Getting yelled at by my station manager for bringing in guests that weren't pre-approved. Being MD here doesn't give you much clout.

SCHROETER: Where do I begin... maybe all the rock stars I accosted while drunk at CMJ. (I told Chris Broach his side project sucked.)

OTTMAN: I'll attest to that!

What's the best line a promoter ever used on you to get you to play a record?

OTTMAN: Jeff at Palm Pictures sent me a pack of P-funk lights, my cancer of choice.

SCHROETER: Someone I won't name tried to get me to have sex with him. At least I think that was his way of working records.

What's the best promo item you've ever received?

OTTMAN: Well, Interscope sent me this t.c.o. (total cuteness overload) baby-doll tee for Unwritten Law. You best know I'll be sportin' that shit at each and every show I go to! Fo' sheezie!

SCHROETER: Best: old Pac-Man trading cards. Worst: the gum that came with the cards. Yecch. Good runners up: Toadies shot glass, Reindeer Section antlers (I have photos of me wearing those under the Xmas tree), banana condom and our old metal director Bill Hanson got a pipe "for tobacco smoking." Right.

Why did you go into college radio?

Both: The men.

When will you be graduating?

OTTMAN: May 2003

SCHROETER: This May. You hiring?

Are you interested in going into the music industry? Doing what?

OTTMAN: Well, I'll be interning at AAM and for Jay "in a perfect world he would come in everyday with no shirt on" Miller at Matador this summer. We'll see how it goes.

SCHROETER: Again, you hiring?

If you could see anyone live (dead or living), who would it be and why?

OTTMAN: Led Zeppelin, because I think I remember listening to one of their songs on a jukebox at a bar once, and really enjoying it.

SCHROETER: Smashing Pumpkins, pre-bald Billy.

What's your favorite Behind The Music episode?

OTTMAN: Mötley Crüe, only because Rock Bitch hasn't been released yet!

SCHROETER: New Kids On The Block. They were so misunderstood.

Any shoutouts?

OTTMAN: I'd like to give some love to Chi.Town and my boy Scizotty G. over at Albini's Spankhouse.

SCHROETER: To my peeps at AAM especially, but also to anyone with whom I've shared a drunk karaoke experience (which is most of you).

COPE WITH IT

I don't really have a lot to wrap up about the NARM/AFIM convention this year. We had meetings, seminars, more meetings, and the Awards Banquet dinner featuring the Counting Crows (who were very good considering they played before a cavernous Marriott ballroom). AFIM's "Meet The Mythical Consumer" panel did receive high marks, though, for two reasons: 1) there were real consumers in the room who freely expressed how they participated in the process of acquiring music; 2) there were some in the audience who didn't like the answers from the consumers and proceeded to jump down their throats because they weren't giving the "right" answers. We were pretty close to a fistfight at one point. The good news is that it got people thinking. AFIM was a breath of fresh air for NARM this year, and perhaps it gave the convention a little more of an edge. I hope the relationship continues and grows for both.

It's nice to see the TV promotion and contest for the new Natalie Imbruglia album. But it's too bad the beneficiary of the advertising is LycosMusic.com. Think back to the success of her last record for a minute: That's right! Lycos broke Natalie when it brought in the initial orders, supported her with in-store play and visibility as her radio story slowly developed — and it was Lycos who ultimately helped it achieve platinum-plus album status. Silly me, I thought it was brick-and-mortar retail. Shows you what I know. I guess next time I want to break an act I now know where I can go — Lycos of course. Here's a suggestion to any labels that might care: why not stick with what got you there? The independent retailer and the small chains should not be abandoned once you've "established" an artist. Now, if I've missed all the advertising with all those retailers who worked to help break Natalie's last album, then I apologize. If not, then shame on you for not treating those retailers right this time around.

As we all saw at NARM, we are a business in transition fighting for our collective lives. Label product managers, marketing and sales departments will do what they feel is right in order to take their artists to the next level, but it just seems strange to see the first volley of support be for an online company like Lycos. Who can name the last artist that broke or moved to the next level this way? I'd love to know who it was — I'll even send you a quarter for the answer.

Rarely do I make suggestions for television shows (especially when they're on MTV), but I can't help myself. I have discovered The Osbournes, the 21st century's answer to Leave It To Beaver. Wally, The Beaver, June, and Ward have been replaced with the loveable Jack, Kelly, Sharon, and Ozzy (who plays Dad). It's a slice of everyday life from the Osbournes that is quite possibly the funniest thing on TV today. Please spend time with the Osbournes learning how many times the F-word gets used during each show. My guess? It's between 150 and 200 times.

Peace, Cope.

SPEAK OUT

BILL O'KEEFE
Rock-A-Billy's
Utica, MI

Last week I had a long, yet enjoyable trip to San Francisco to attend NARM 2002. Upon arrival I was given a unique opportunity to spend the remainder of the Conference with the members of CIMS. And what a great opportunity this turned out to be. I was in meetings with people I had heard and read about in publications such as this and I now know why this group gets the recognition it does. The CIMS people are some of the best in our business. From the great leadership of Don VanCleave to the innovative ideas of its members, you can see the commitment, not only to their stores, but also to the music industry as a whole. We had meetings with numerous labels, distributors and even a couple of one stops this year. During one of these meetings I saw the true essence of CIMS. We were discussing $19.98 price-points and the inferior product issue when one label rep, in an act of atonement for past practices, offered to produce a special CD provided exclusively to CIMS stores. To the label's surprise, the quick and forceful consensus from CIMS was that the label should provide the value-add to all retailers. I finally realized why it has been so important for the mass merchandisers to offer superior product. You see retail — as in sports or anything else in life when a level playing field is provided — the person with the greatest passion will ultimately succeed. We as "independents" got into this business because of our passion for music, while others slithered through the back door selling consumer electronics to provide large profits for their stockholders. So while I don't agree, I do understand why certain accounts so desperately want their special product. Those accounts look at us and recognize they have no chance at matching our knowledge, customer satisfaction and commitment to music. so i've returned to my own store, confident that the way my independent brothers and I run our stores will provide us with our greatest chance for success in this ever-changing retail world.

UNDER THE RADAR Column by Gerry Hart • ghart@cmj.com

This week in Under the Radar we want to draw special attention to those albums that are either making important moves on CMJ Retail charts, or are just about to. We'll also throw in a few reasons on the what, why, and how things are beginning to pop.

Must be mentioned that Josh Freeze played on this album (Vandals, Devo, A Perfect Circle). These guys have been on tour the last four months and will definitely continue to support the album on the road throughout the year. Contact ron.feddor@virgin-records.com for displays and sales info.	This is LS's first Mute release. People getting into this on first listen and responding: "Nothing At All" 12" was serviced to a select list of techno/house/progressive DJs with great feedback. First time LS has worked with a vocalist—some mainstream potential here that isn't offending his fans. For POPs, in-store play copies, etc. contact Nicole Blonder at Nicole@mute.com.	Lifestyle stores and publications also being targeted. 20k 3-song samplers handed out by active street teams at R.I.Y.L. (recommended if you like) artists' shows — fans of Jayhawks, Neil Young, Wilco, Jimmy EW, Starsailor, and Travis all being reached out to. On Anthropologie sampler and landmark theater sampler (15k distributed to movie houses).

Buyer: Dilyn Radakovitz (dilyn@dimple.com)
Promotions Coordinator: Richard Muncaster (richard@dimple.com)

Long ago in a parallel universe (of big valley) far away, a retailer was born (or better put, developed) — Dimple Records owner, John Radakovitz. John has been selling music for over 33 years now. Back in 1966 he worked as a rackjobber, loading up his '65 Ford wagon with 3000 Monkees LPs and heading for Reno, Nevada only to end up four days later Monkee-less in Fresno. It was an interesting time back then when there were no real record shops — when you had to sell records to drug and grocery stores. Around the end of the rack-jobbing era in 1974, John opened his first retail store along with a small one stop. The main store now is 14,000 sq. ft. (10,000 for retail, and the rest for art, offices, storage etc.). Additional Dimple locations now include 6300, 5300, and 3300 sq. ft. stores. The main store has 30 ft. ceilings with a working 150 ft. motorized trolley that goes back and forth. It's also got roulette wheels, mirrors that distort your figure and mutant airplanes "morphed" from wheelchairs and motorcycles that hang with their pilots by cables. But it's really Dimple's product mix and expert staff that keep the customers coming back.

Dimple Records joined the Music Monitor Network several years ago in order to add promotional value to their stores. It has also recently extended its image and motto, ("The Insanity Begins Here") into it's own in-house publication called EAR-WAX. Forty thousand copies of the magazine are distributed monthly by News & Review and include music reviews, artist advertisements and other key music information.

John and his wife Dilyn have built a family business by (literally) bringing aboard two fine professionals — their sons Oliver and Drew. Oliver (a Cornell grad) is Dimple's CFO, while Drew (a Pepperdine grad) is their HR manager. People often ask, "How did you get the name Dimple?" John always replies, "The era of wet t-shirts is over, grieve not over what remains behind." Dimple Records insanity begins here!

NEWSWORTHY

MEXICAN RADIO'S MOMENT OF SILENCE

On the morning of March 13, former Wall Of Voodoo guitarist and founder, Marc Moreland, passed away in Paris, France. Wall Of Voodoo released nine albums over the course of a decade with their most notable hit coming from "Mexican Radio" in the mid-eighties. Ever since Wall Of Voodoo disbanded in 1989, Moreland had been working on several music projects including his own Ensenada Joyride In Europe and Department Of Crooks. His solo debut album, Take It To The Spotlight, was released March 5 and features Jean-Marc Butty (PJ Harvey, Jean-Louis Murat), John Parish (PJ Harvey, Eels, DominicA.), Joachim Barbier and Lisa Dewey. Marc was an original and will be deeply missed by everyone. Cards and condolences can be sent to: Frederique Moreland, PO Box 1384, Coos Bay, OR 97420; emails can go to Ms. Vieuxdo at vieuxdo@bigfoot.com who will forward them on; websites for Marc include www.marcmoreland.com and www.kitchenwhore.com.

TWIST & SHOUT TAKES HOME THE GOLD!

Ok, so they took home the Glass, along with Waterloo (Happy 20th Anniversary!), and Borders. These three won NARM's Retailer Of The Year for small, medium, and large divisions, 2002. Congratulations everyone. We should mention Twist & Shout co-owner Paul Epstein's acceptance speech where he decried what he called the industry's current "death wish," referring to practices at major labels and distribution companies that are becoming increasingly "disastrous to music and the music industry." More on this later.
